To Widely Advertise Parade. John M. Lee of the publicity com nittee made his report as follows: The committee on publicity held a meeting on June 15th and considered the various ways in which they could advertise the forthcoming celebration. They considered a proposition from Henry H. Vignot, president of The Norwich and New London Bill Post-Norwich and New London Bill Posting Co, to use 50 one-eighth sheets to be placed on the bill boards throughout eastern Connecticut. In connection with this proposition would say that Mr. Vignot has eliminated any profit which might accrue from the contract and his charge would cover only the bare cost of material and the amount expended for labor. Moreover he has offered to suspend a banner advertising the preparedness parade across, Main street in the vicinity of the Wauregan House, the entire expense of which would be borne by him. Roy D.
